

Libra 8 of Wands

All aspects of your life, from love to family, work to creative projects, speed up under the influence of this Eight: delays are done with as decisions are made, words turn into actions, projects and travel plans fire up, and you find yourself fielding more calls, emails, socials, and meetings than ever before. This is an exciting, if bewildering time, when everything happens at once; you'll be in constant demand.

Advice: Take a breath before saying yes to all offers - choose carefully, and you won't waste energy or time running in circles.

Scorpio Nine of Pentacles

Now is the time to treat yourself to some leisure and luxury – furnishing your home, tending your garden, indulging in your favourite pursuit, or otherwise spending on yourself – as you'll be feeling rich in time and money. You will love your home, so you may redecorate, re-arrange, bake, and invite others to share your relaxed, comfortable space.

Advice: Devote time and money to your interests and your home. You can be the centre of your world, and appreciate all the good things in life just now.

Sagittarius King of Cups

This king is an action man, which makes him an engaging companion and an inspiring leader. Self-motivated, he is entrepreneurial, dynamic, and open-minded. You will know what he is thinking, as his feelings always show. Travel may be important to him, and he is connected to many people with backgrounds different to his own. Expect to find practical solutions to problems and also see your network of friends and professional contacts grow.

Advice: Explore your passions and look to unconventional people and new places

Capricorn Knight of Pentacles

This Knight is not dashing – he's slow and steady, planning his moves with care. He may not be charming, but he is loyal and trustworthy, so any offer he makes can be taken seriously. He often appears in readings to show businesses, investments, and projects that have good future potential, and in property, choosing the perfect home; this is the right time to make a serious decision about your long-term future.

Advice: Hard graft may not be exciting, but the results will bring you great fulfilment.

Aquarius Six of Cups

It's time to glide into more peaceful, calm waters, so this is a reassuring card if you have suffered upheaval, conflict, or uncertainty recently. The Six also predicts physical journeys over water and, in general, sees you moving on in positive ways; new work may also be on the horizon. An additional meaning is protection, in that you prioritise what's important to you, and leave behind the people or situations that no longer serve you.

Advice: Go with the flow of life; there's no need to resist change.

Pisces Queen of Cups

October is a month where love grows and bonds deepen in romance, while your social and family connections grow and thrive; anything you do with others is favoured now, from celebrations to team sports. Any old disagreements are overcome in the spirit of togetherness. Children thrive and your home is a hive of activity; equally, you enjoy prosperity and work success. An additional meaning of this Ten is finding your dream home, and having children.

Advice: You can feel blessed for the life you have; it's time to celebrate.

CUPS

Aries Page of Cups

October is a month of Imagination, time to feel young at heart and start enjoying life. Make time for good company, fun, and friendship. October also brings you the message that love is coming your way in the future. When this Page arrives in a reading, your creative projects will also flourish – and so will your finances. An additional meaning is a young psychic.

Advice: Enjoy the lighter side of life, and allow yourself time to play and let your imagination run free.

II

Taurus Two of Pentacles

This Two shows a decision is underway. You're considering your options, rehearsing all the possible outcomes, rather than taking action. The choice may concern jobs, places to study, potential homes, or where to travel. In personal finances, there are demands on your resources, so you may find yourself juggling income and expenditure in order to balance the books.

Advice: Pay attention to the detail of any financial agreements or offers. Look for the long-term benefits, rather than go for short-term gain.

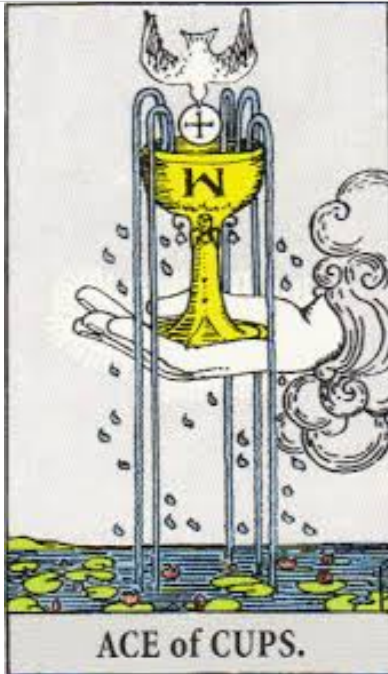

II

Gemini Two of Swords

You are at a crossroads, and there is a decision to be made. The two swords signify tension and indecision; locked in conflict, neither can win, as their power appears to be equal. This situation may, or may not be of your own making; your perspective is blocked, or there's an obvious clue that you are not seeing.

Advice: Look again; take a fresh angle. Any action or decision is better than none. This is a great opportunity for a breakthrough in your thinking.

Cancer Ace of Cups

This Ace brings you your heart's desire as you find fulfilment through an artistic pursuit or a new relationship. You may create a 'baby' that is your project – a new business, a book, planting a garden or decorating your home. This card, along with The Queen of the Ocean also reveals pregnancy, motherhood and joy. The Ace, while being a positive card, can also bring emotions that feel overwhelming.

Advice: Open your heart and trust; you need not be overwhelmed by emotion. Just be open to what comes to you.

Leo Three of Wands

This Three brings energy and enthusiasm to all your activities, and in love, predicts a new relationship and celebrations, such as weddings and engagements. This Three is also a brilliant card for travel, and for the arts and sport, too, showing a dynamic attitude that gets results. You may find yourself taking an unusual approach to a dilemma or situation, finding ingenious ways to problem-solve and get your message across.

Advice: Think laterally; try new ways to fire your communication and creativity

Virgo Seven of Cups

There are many choices available to you now, but which do you focus on? At this point, there are few facts to help you decide – only a raft of impressions. The danger is you fall for a fantasy, as you have no sense, yet, of what is real, and what you're idealising because it fires your imagination. In creative projects, you may be awash with ideas. An additional meaning is dreams and visions.

Advice: Rather than rush toward one option, stand back awhile; wait to see what manifests.
